

Gary Rinkerman represents the Cedar Creek Battlefield Foundation on the Park Advisory Commission. He sits on the Board of Directors for the Cedar Creek Battlefield Foundation and serves as a narrator for the annual reenactments of the Battle of Cedar Creek. Mr. Rinkerman is a graduate of Rutgers University and Georgetown's University Law Center. His practice of law includes litigation, arbitration, transactions, and counseling in matters that involve copyright, trademark, patent, and other forms of intellectual property rights. Mr. Rinkerman is a regular lecturer on U.S. intellectual property law for the Zurich Institute of Technology in Switzerland, George Mason University's Executive MBA Program in Fairfax, Virginia, and other universities in the United States. He also works with the Paul IV High School Options Program, dedicated to children with severe learning disabilities. Mr. Rinkerman resides with his family in Fairfax, Virginia.

